

Location/Time: MU L1-45 Havasupai

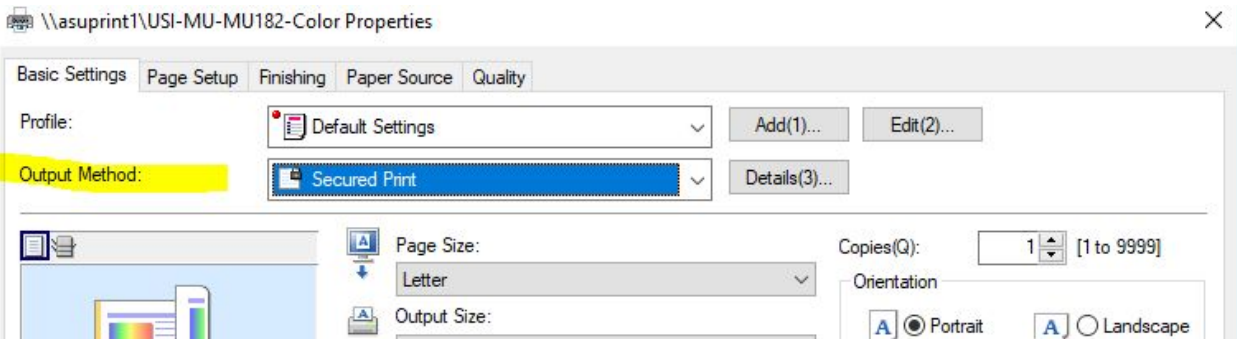

12:00 - 1:00 p.m.

Introductions/New Ideas:

- ❖ The 2019 Ideas document is open - feel free to contribute any project ideas you have
 - Employee-Made Sustainable Recipe Book idea is popular
 - We have “aired our sustainability grievances” and we have a lot of things in common! Check the Ideas document for the things we discussed. We should definitely work on addressing these things together!
- ❖ We are looking for more subcommittee participation, and ideas for new subcommittees/projects!

Round Table and Open Discussion:

- Are your peers leaving their print jobs on the printer and not picking them up? This is highly wasteful...
- Try utilizing the SECURE PRINT option, where a passcode will be required to enter into the copier before the print job comes out. (Meaning, the person will need to be standing at the copier to enter the code, and pick up their materials.)
- Here is where you find the option (under Printer Preferences):

Subcommittee Updates:

❖ Save Paper @ ASU!

Intention of the Subcommittee: To develop a list of Sustainability Options for the on-campus magazines and printed publications.

- Important Update: Melissa will be leaving us, and we will need someone to take over (really, we just need a facilitator) so we can continue this project.

❖ Sustainable Purchasing Toolkit

Intention of the Subcommittee: We are working to create a user-friendly Sustainable Purchasing Toolkit. The goal is to make the Sustainable Purchasing Guidelines usable by everyone at ASU

Contact Emmery to join! Our next meeting will be September 19th at 11 AM.

Conference Schedule Preview Now Available

Planning is well underway for the 12th annual ASU CSW/SC Professional Development Conference hosted by the ASU Commission on the Status of Women and the ASU Staff Council.

Curious about this year's offerings? You can now preview the conference schedule and workshop topics by campus on the CSW website.

Registration to open September 9th.

Plan to join us for the nation's largest university-provided development conference for faculty, staff, and students!

Conference Information:

The conference is open to all ASU faculty, staff and students – and attendees may attend programs at any of the four campuses. The conference is completely free of charge to all attendees.

Registration to open soon!

Members of the CSW listserv will be given first access to registration information. If you do not already receive emails from the Commission, join the listserv by simply emailing "Join CSW List" to asucsw@asu.edu.

ASU's Sustainable Consumption and Purchasing Research Workshop

Sustainable consumption and purchasing reduces negative environmental effects and advances social equity. At Arizona State University, research from a variety of disciplines contributes to our collective knowledge on the topic.

We can do more to advance sustainable consumption and purchasing solutions if we work together. Please join us at ASU's first Sustainable Consumption and Purchasing Research Workshop.

- Share your insights
- Learn what others are doing
- Explore pathways that leverage our collective knowledge
- Strategize for future research opportunities

Catered lunch provided.
